

IPC Lauds Obama Administration for Beginning Immigration Reform Discussion

Released on Tue, Jun 23, 2009

Tomorrow, President Obama and Congressional leaders will meet to chart a roadmap designed to move comprehensive immigration reform forward in 2009. The President has already begun solving our nation's toughest problems and has promised to tackle our broken immigration system in his first year in office. Leaders in Congress are also committed to moving immigration reform this year and their efforts are buoyed by a groundswell of support from the majority of Americans who want immigration reform.

View Release [1]

Source URL:

<http://immigrationpolicy.org/newsroom/release/ipc-lauds-obama-administration-beginning-immigration-reform-discussion>

Links:

[1] http://immigrationpolicy.org/sites/default/files/docs/Lauds Obama Administration for Beginning Immigration Reform Discussion.pdf