

IPC Statement on Heritage Foundation Voter Fraud Report

Released on Mon, Jun 30, 2008

Lack of evidence is no obstacle for the Heritage Foundation, which on July 10 issued a rambling memorandum claiming that an unknowable yet large number of non-citizens are voting illegally and subverting the electoral process. Rigorous research has shown that voter fraud in the U.S. is almost non-existent and that most allegations of voter fraud by non-citizens stem from faulty records, partisan politics, and common-place error.

View Release [1]

Source URL:

<http://immigrationpolicy.org/newsroom/release/ipc-statement-heritage-foundation-voter-fraud-report>

Links:

[1] <http://immigrationpolicy.org/sites/default/files/docs/HeritageReport7-24-08.pdf>