

Raids' Impact on Families and Hate Groups On the Rise

Released on Thu, Apr 03, 2008

Last summer's failure by the federal government to reform the nation's broken immigration system has had strong and lasting repercussions. Stepped up raids are causing upheaval in communities and anti-immigrant extremists have hijacked the immigration debate. Both of these disturbing trends provide additional evidence of the need for a solution to our ongoing immigration policy problems.

View Release [1]

Source URL:

<http://immigrationpolicy.org/newsroom/release/raids-impact-families-and-hate-groups-rise>

Links:

[1] <http://immigrationpolicy.org/sites/default/files/docs/OnPointHighlights04-04-08.pdf>