WHAT IS THIS CASE ABOUT?

- Ninth Circuit-wide class action about eligibility to adjust status under INA § 245(i) with an I-212 waiver for individuals who are inadmissible under INA § 212(a)(9)(C)(i)(II) because they entered the U.S. without admission after 4/1/1997 following a prior removal order.

- Non-class members must wait outside the U.S. for 10 years before they can apply to waive INA § 212(a)(9)(C)(i)(II) (aka the "permanent bar")

- Class members need not wait the 10 years, but must take steps to pursue de novo adjudication of AOS and waiver applications

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. FTC, 691 F.2d 1322, 1328 (9th Cir. 1982)

(1) whether the particular case is one of first impression,

(2) whether the new rule represents an abrupt departure from well-established practice or merely attempts to fill a void in an unsettled area of law,

(3) the extent to which the party against whom the new rule is applied relied on the former rule,

(4) the degree of the burden which a retroactive order imposes on a party, and

(5) the statutory interest in applying a new rule despite the reliance of a party on the old standard.

IT'S A BALANCING TEST

GARFIAS-RODRIGUEZ APPLICATION OF MONTGOMERY WARD FACTORS

(1) first impression –not "well suited" to imm law

(2) abrupt departure

(3) reliance on former rule

(4) burden – favored Mr. G-R, faces deportation without opportunity to apply for relief

(5) statutory interest – favors the gov't b/c of uniformity in immigration law is well-established

GARFIAS-RODRIGUEZ APPLICATION OF FACTORS #2 AND #3

(2) abrupt departure & (3) reliance on former rule

-- "closely intertwined"

- -- 2 factors favor retroactivity if a party could reasonably have anticipated the change in the law so that change would not be a complete surprise.
- If a rule = abrupt departure from well established practice → reliance on the prior rule is likely to be reasonable
- If the rule "merely attempts to fill a void in an unsettled area of law" → reliance less likely to be reasonable.

GARFIAS-RODRIGUEZ APPLICATION OF MONTGOMERY WARD FACTORS

- Only window in which Mr. Garfias- Rodriguez could have shown reasonable reliance was "between the issuance of Acosta and Briones" because "[a]fter Briones was issued, he was on notice of Acosta 's vulnerability."

- Ninth Circuit found against Mr. Garfias-Rodriguez because he filed before Acosta and before Perez-Gonzales; i.e., before there was an official position.

SATISFYING FACTORS #2 AND #3 IN DURAN GONZALEZ CASES

Aug. 13, 2004 & Jan. 26, 2006
Perez-Gonzalez & Matter of Torres-Garcia show per se reliance and eligible to have AOS and I-212 adjudicated on the merits

Jan. 26, 2006 & Nov. 13, 2006
Matter of Torres-Garcia* & District Court injunction demonstrate reasonable reliance on Perez-Gonzales in light of Matter of Torres-Garcia
(and distinguish Carrillo de Palacios)

Nov. 13, 2006 & Nov. 30, 2007 –
District Court injunction & Duran Gonzales I demonstrate reasonable reliance on Perez-Gonzales in light of District Court's injunction* requiring DHS to follow it *reliance on injunction is "relevant"

EVIDENTIARY STANDARD FOR I-212 WAIVERS

- Matter of Lee*, 17 I&N Dec 275 (Comm. 1978); Matter of Tin, 14 I&N Dec. 371 (R.C. 1973): factors include: moral character; recency of deportation; need for the applicant's services in the U.S.; knowledge of deportation order; length of time in the United States; basis for deportation; applicant's respect for law and order; evidence of reformation and rehabilitation; family responsibilities; inadmissibility under other sections of law; hardship involved to himself and others. See also 8 C.F.R. § 212.2 (DHS); § 1212.2 (EOIR).

EVIDENTIARY STANDARD FOR I-601 WAIVERS

- Matter of Cervantes-Gonzalez*, 22 I&N Dec. 560, 565-566 (BIA 1999): factors include: presence of LPR or USC family ties to the US; the qualifying relative's family ties outside the US; conditions in the country or countries to which the qualifying relative would relocate and the extent of the qualifying relative's ties to such countries; financial impact of departure from the US; and significant conditions of health, particularly when tied to an unavailability of suitable medical care in the country to which the qualifying relative would relocate.

- Matter of O-J-O-*, 21 I&N Dec. 381 (BIA 1996) - "[r]elevant factors, though not extreme in themselves, must be considered in the aggregate in determining whether extreme hardship exists."

OTHER ISSUES

- Reinstatement of removal:

- Within 30 days of being notified that the motion was filed, the reinstatement order is cancelled.
